What is the CISG?

The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) is a multilateral treaty that governs the international sale of goods between parties from different countries. The CISG was adopted in 1980 and has been ratified by over 90 countries, making it one of the most widely adopted international commercial law conventions.

The CISG provides a uniform set of rules that govern the formation, performance, and breach of international sales contracts. These rules are designed to promote certainty and predictability in international commercial transactions and to facilitate the resolution of disputes.
